What is Asset Management?

Coordinated activity of an organization (3.1.13) to realize value from assets (3.2.1)

Note 1 to entry: Realization of value will normally involve a balancing of costs, risks (3.1.21), opportunities and performance (3.1.17) benefits.

ISO 55000

Federation of Canadian Municipalities (FCM)

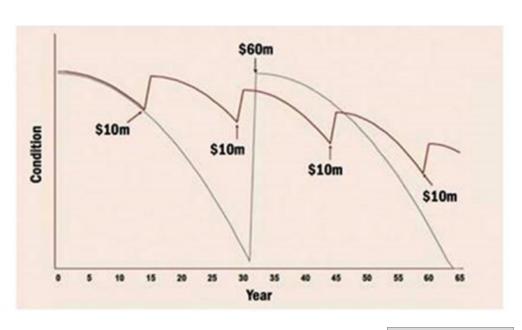

Asset management is a process used in decision-making.

It helps us care for the infrastructure that delivers valuable services to our community, in a way that:

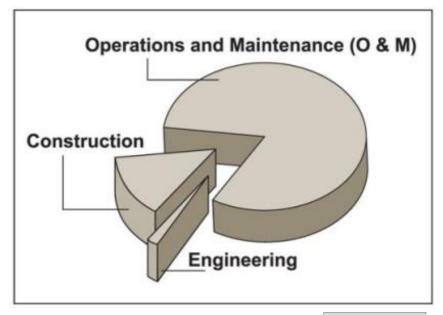

- Considers service needs of our community
- Manages risks and opportunities
- Uses resources wisely

Lifecycle Approach

Essential Questions of Asset Management

- 1 What do you have and where is it? (Inventory)
 - What is it worth? (Replacement Costs)
 - What is its condition and expected remaining service life? (Condition Assessment)
 - What is the level of service expectation, what needs to be done? (Capital and operating plans)
 - 5 When do you need to do it? (Capital and operating plans)
 - How much will it cost and what is the acceptable level of risk(s)? (Short- and long-term financial plan)
- 7 How do you ensure long-term affordability? (Short- and long-term financial plan)

Analysis and Strategy Development

Levels of Service (LOS)

What is the current Level of Service?

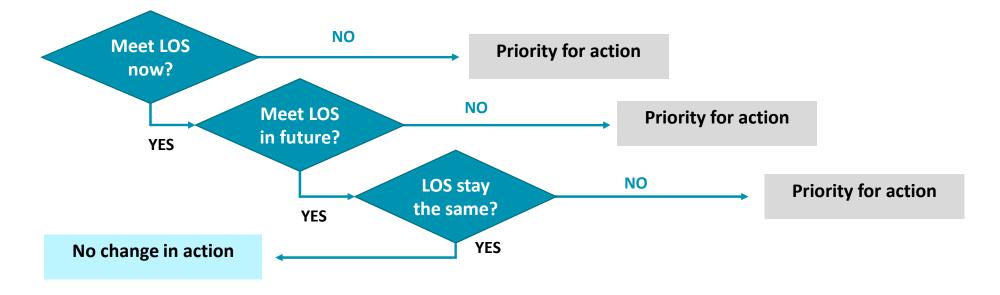

What is your current performance?

What is the proposed Level of Service?

How will you measure future performance?

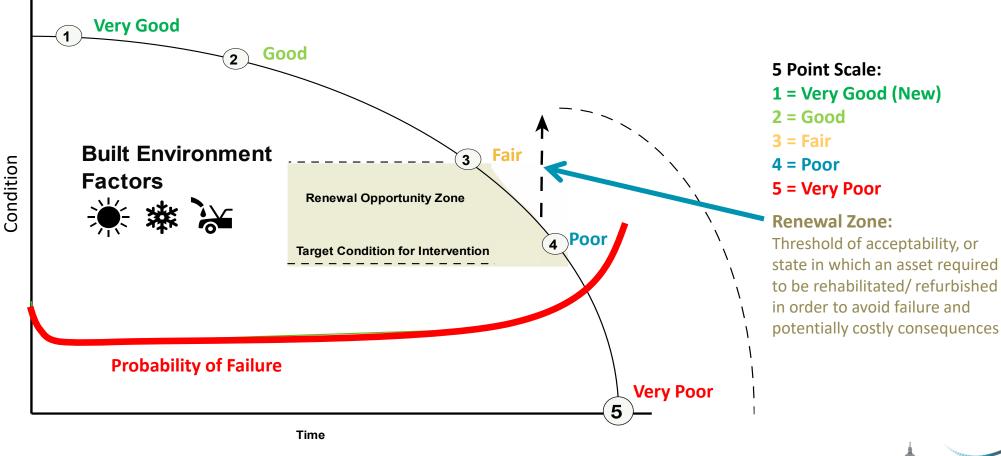

Levels of Service and Risk

- Levels of Service are the service performance targets
- Risk is defined as the "effect of uncertainty on our objectives"
- Asset risk is about any risks to achieving our Levels of Service (along with achieving budgets, safety and compliance)
- Priorities are defined by the size of the gaps between target LOS and current and future risks
